[illegible]DDY [illegible],
How to make them so. Keep them in Health and They will take care of the Rest.

The joy of every well-regulated household comes chiefly from the children. Thousands of affectionate parents do not take care of their children. Through ignorance more than through culpable neglect they suffer them to fall sick and die, when knowledge might have saved them to love and home. Dr. David Kennedy offers his "Favorite Remedy" as emphatically a medicine for the children—gentle in its action, containing no harmful ingredients whatever, going straight to the Blood, which, when impure, is the seat and source of disease. "Favorite Remedy" is the friend of childhood and should be found in every nursery in the land. Keep it in your house for your children's sake, as well as for your own. Try it and you will be glad you saw this article. Make no mistakes. The medicine is "Favorite Remedy" and the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. One dollar a bottle.

Cuticura

Miracles of Healing Unparalleled in Medical History.

"CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the great natural blood purifier, absorbent, renovator and vitalizer, has shown its grand curative power in scrofula, white swellings, ulcers, erysipelas, swelled neck, scrofulous inflammations, mercurial affections, old sores, eruptions of the skin, sore eyes and scalp affections, with dry, thin and falling hair; and when the CUTICURA, a Medicinal Jelly, and the CUTICURA SOAP, prepared from it, are applied to external symptoms, the cures affected by the CUTICURA REMEDIES are marvellous.

SCROFULA.

SCROFULA.—Hon William Taylor, Boston, State Senator of Massachusetts, permanently cured of a humor of the face and scalp that had been treated unsuccessfully for twelve years by many of Boston's best physicians and most noted specialists, as well as European authorities. He says: "I have been so elated with my successful use of the Cuticura Remedies that I have stopped men in the streets to tell them of my case."

RUNNING SORES.

RUNNING SORES. Henry Landecker, Dover, N. H., certifies that Aug. 25, 1877, he broke his leg. The bone was set by a physician. Upon removing the splints sores broke out from the knee to the heel. Doctors called them varicose veins, and ordered rubber stockings. Paid $25 for stockings, without any signs of cure. Bought CUTICURA REMEDIES and was rapidly and permanently cured. Certified to by Lothrops & Pinkham, Druggists, Dover, N. H.

SALT RHEUM.

SALT RHEUM.—Geo. F. Owen, Dealer in Pianos, Grand Rapids, Mich., was troubled for nine years with Salt Rheum. Tried every medicine known to the trade, and was attended by many physicians with only temporary relief. Cured by CUTICURA REMEDIES.

CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by WEEKS & POTTER, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington st., Boston, and are for sale by all Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, a Medicinal Jelly, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, $1. CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA MEDICINAL TOILET SOAP, 25 cents. STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

Dr. Miah Sullivan, of Lewiston, while dressing a wound about two weeks ago, accidentally stuck the sharp point of a pair of scissors, on which was poisonous matter from the wound, into his little finger. No harm appeared to result until four days ago. An abscess then formed on the finger, and his whole fore-arm became badly swollen. The sore threatened to become dangerous. On Tuesday it was lanced, and Wednesday the swelling subsided.

Aroostook.

The Houlton Times says:—The net proceeds from the late Episcopal fair and sale amount to about forty-four dollars. The ladies of the society have raised, during the last year and a half, nearly two hundred dollars. They intend to devote the funds to the erection of a chapel upon their lot located on Main street.

The two Custom detectives sent from St. John to Woodstock, made a seizure of smuggled goods near the line last week. The goods are principally different kinds of tobacco and cigars, and are of considerable value.

Franklin.

Phillips: The Chronicle says that a dwelling house owned and occupied by Hiram W. Lakin, at West Phillips, was destroyed by fire Wednesday night. The furniture, provisions, etc., were consumed. Mr. Lakin was alone at the time of the fire, his mother, who lives with him, being absent on a visit to Madrid. Loss, $600; insurance, $200. Cause unknown.

Kennebec.

The Kennebec county Reform Club convention will meet at Winthrop, Jan. 6th, commencing at 2 P. M., continuing the 7th. Delegates from all clubs are cordially invited to attend.

Some six weeks ago a bee-tree was discovered on the farm of Mr. Cyrus Collins, of Manchester. Mr. Collins cut the tree down, secured the section containing the bees, and took it home with bees, honey, and comb inside. He has plugged up the entrance into the log and will keep it until spring, when he proposes to have a fine swarm of busy bees in shape another summer to furnish his family with a supply of honey.

Somerset.

Madison: The Reporter says that Mrs. Benj. French, of Madison, who is 60 years old, has, during the past few weeks, wove over 60 yards of rag carpet, cutting, coloring and sewing her material without any assistance. In the meantime she has spun piles of rolls and attended to her house work.

Uncle Daniel Reed, of Madison, is over 96 years old, and a hale old fellow, too. He talks and laughs with as much zest as a lad of 18, and seems to enjoy life as well.

Waldo.

It is reported that a dangerous disease of the throat not wholly unlike diphtheria has occurred in several families in the Thurlough district, in Monroe, causing the school to be sparsely attended.

The Belfast Journal says: Twenty-five thousand tons of ice were cut on Unity Pond and shipped to Belfast, which made extra labor for Belfast workmen. This rich harvest of ice in winter was followed in summer by bountiful crops, particularly that of hay; and the value of the hay crop was greatly enhanced by the short crops in other States. One year ago hay sold in Belfast for $11 and $12 per ton, which was then thought to be a good price. This fall our farmers have taken $18 and $20 for their best hay.

Mr. Samuel Robbins, of Belfast, died last Thursday at the age of about 85 years. He was born in North Haven, subsequently moved to Deer Isle, and about forty years ago came to Belfast and settled above the bridge, being the third resident in that locality. He claimed to have been captured by the British at Castine, and for a time was with the English officers. He was the father of seventeen children, ten of whom are now living, and all but one live in the settlement known as the Robbins neighborhood. Thirteen houses in the settlement are now occupied by his children or grandchildren. The race is a very prolific one. There are now living in addition to the ten children of the old man already mentioned, fifty four grandchildren and twenty-six great grandchildren. The family, one and all, have followed the same occupation, fishing and clamming.

John Thompson & Co., dealers in groceries, etc., North Searsmont, Me., have failed, and will settle in insolvency.

FASHION NOTES.

Enameled vases, with biscuit decoration, are among the holiday gifts.

Small lead weights are seen in the ends of coat basques to keep them in place.

Tan and biscuit colored gloves are worn in the evening with gowns of any color.

Light tints and dark shades of one color are used to make gowns for evening wear.

Fans of brocade velvet are extremely elegant, rivalling those embroidered by hand.

Pugs' heads in red gold, with ruby eyes, are the design of some cuff buttons for gentlemen.

Long gloves, with a pattern reaching from the fingers to the elbow, are worn in the evening.

Honeysuckle, maple leaf and clematis patterns, for wall hangings, have recently been invented by a New York firm.

NEW MAGAZINES.

A New Volume. LITTELL'S LIVING AGE enters upon its one hundred and forty-eighth volume in January. Foreign periodical literature embraces more thoroughly every year the work of the foremost writers in all departments of literature, science, politics and art; and THE LIVING AGE, which gives in convenient form the best of this literature, can therefore hardly fail to become of more and more value every year to its readers. The first weekly number of the new year and new volume—a good one with which to begin a subscription—has the following table of contents: Village Life in New England, by a Non-resident American, Contemporary Review; The Marshal Duke of Saldanha, Quarterly Review; Lyme Regis; A Splinter of Petrified History, Cornhill; My Holiday in Jamaica, Chambers' Journal; The Photophone, Spectator; Girl and Grandfather, Temple Bar; Sir Alexander Cockburn, Spectator; Jewish Success and Failure, Spectator; and a variety of select poetry. For fifty-two numbers of sixty-four large pages each (or more than 3,300 pages a year), the subscription price ($8) is low; while for $10 50 the publishers offer to send any one of the American $4 monthlies or weeklies with the Living Age for a year, both postpaid. Littell & Co., Boston, are the publishers.

SATURDAY, JAN. 1, 1880.

THE NEW YEAR.

Again we cross the threshold of a new year, and as the last moment of 1880 glides from us into the past, we turn our gaze forward to meet the events of the twelve months of 1881.

The past year has been a remarkable one in many respects and its history and memories will dwell with us for many years to come. Among its most prominent features have been the wonderful revival of our business industries, and the exciting political campaign which resulted in the signal triumph of the National Republican party, by the election of its standard-bearers: GARFIELD AND ARTHUR. That triumph not only secured the fruits of past patriotic sacrifice, but it has guaranteed the future maintenance of the grand principles upon which alone can our national prosperity and greatness be securely based.

We enter the New Year under the most cheering auspices, and with brightening skies around us. Its flying hours will find worthy work for ready hands to do, and its unsullied pages invite the record of good deeds. As we step forward on the untrodden path-way of another twelvemonth the ambition of each should be to live a history that will be pleasant to read when this year shall also have rolled away. And in the highest and best sense we wish and hope that 1881 may prove to each and all

A HAPPY NEW YEAR!

SENATOR BLAINE AND THE SECRETARYSHIP OF STATE.

[From the Boston Traveller, Editorial, Dec. 29.]

Our correspondent at Washington telegraphed on Christmas Eve that Senator Blaine's entry into the new Cabinet as Secretary of State was strongly anticipated, and that Hon. William E. Chandler, than whom no one is better acquainted with the Senator's mind, expressed the opinion that he would succeed Mr. Evarts. This morning, a correspondent at Augusta, whom we have always found reliable, sends us a confirmatory despatch, printed in another column, in which he very positively foreshadows Mr. Blaine's acceptance of the high post tendered to him by the President-elect. It may be that all these reports will yet prove unfounded, but they come from such opposite quarters, and have been reiterated so often within the past week, that we think we may take two things for granted: First, that General Garfield has intimated to the Maine Senator his desire that he should fill the important office of Secretary of State; second, that Senator Blaine is disposed, even if he has not definitely decided, to accept the invitation.

Assuming that what now seems probable shall presently become an accomplished fact, we see every reason to congratulate the President-elect, the country, the Republican party generally, and locally in Maine, and Mr. Blaine personally. We anticipate general assent to the opinion that by calling to the first place in his Cabinet a New England statesman of Mr. Blaine's stalwart type, President Garfield will have given at the outset a stronger moral guarantee for the thoroughly Republican tone and character of his administration than he could possibly have done in any other way. There will be no half-measures decided upon touching infringements of the National authority, and outrages upon American citizenship, with James G. Blaine sitting behind its chief portfolio.

The country is to be congratulated on this score, and further, because in Mr. Blaine it will have a Secretary of State who will, if we mistake not, combine much of the subtlety of Seward, with all the force of Stanton, and who has the utmost intimacy with our foreign relations, and the most hearty sympathy with those of our people who have suffered from the hostility of our Provincial neighbors, and by the unfortunate diplomacy which led up to the preposterous Halifax Award. We may be sure that in his hands, neither our national dignity nor our commercial interests would suffer for lack of being diplomatically defended with ability and vigor.

Then, we think, that the Republican party in Maine is to be equally congratulated. In Mr. Blaine's elevation Maine will receive rare honor, another compliment to her singular fertility in the production of men of the highest public capacity. Nor will she lose strength in the Senate. With her Hale and her Frye standing ready to receive the mantles of her Hamlin and her Blaine she may rest satisfied that she will not purchase her conspicuity in the Cabinet at the cost of her eclipse in the Senate Chamber.

Finally, Mr. Blaine himself is to be personally congratulated, assuming him to act affirmatively on the proposition to transfer his commanding talents to the Cabinet. It will be a splendid rounding to his uniquely brilliant public career. In less than twenty years, and while still at the meridian point of manhood, he will have passed in rapid and triumphant succession from the Speakership and leadership of the House, to a large share in the leadership of the Senate, and thence to the chief Administrative office of the government, next to the Presidency. Nor would it necessarily end there. Whatever Presidential chances yet remain to this gifted man would improve rather than diminish by his acceptance of the Secretaryship of State.

"ENTERPRISE."

If the Republicans of this city did not have the Commercial to turn to for information they would hardly be aware that a great struggle was in progress between two leading members of their own party for the Senatorial succession in this State. As a prominent Republican, taking up a copy of this morning's issue of our esteemed contemporary between his thumb and finger, and gazing upon it with a mingled expression of indignation and contempt, more forcibly than politely remarked, "The WHIG is (indeed) a H——l of a newspaper."—Bangor Commercial.

If any one had taken up the enterprising sheet which put forth the above refined boast last evening, he would have found, as the entire amount of "information" furnished on the subject referred to, the text of a batch of gossip telegraphed the Boston Traveller from "Portland, Dec. 29," but rehashed, with principal portions given verbatim, with a change of date to "Dec. 31," and printed under big head lines and with great flourish as a "Special to the Commercial."

THE YORKTOWN CELEBRATION. The Hon. Robert C. Winthrop has accepted the invitation from the Joint Committee of Congress to deliver the address at the Yorktown celebration. His letter to the committee is as follows:

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 22, 1880.

Gentlemen—Your obliging communication of the 16th inst. reached me a few days ago. I am deeply conscious of my own insufficiency for meeting so great an occasion as you propose to me. But such an invitation, for such a service, and from such a source, cannot be declined. Coming from the Capitol, and communicated by a committee of the two houses of Congress, it has the force of a command, and I dare not disobey it. I shall, therefore, hold myself at the disposition of the Committee of Arrangements on the 19th of October next at Yorktown, Va., God willing. Believe me, gentlemen, with a grateful acknowledgment of the complimentary terms of your letter, very faithfully and respectfully, your obedient servant.

(Signed) ROBERT C. WINTHROP.

THE GOVERNOR CANVASS.

Can Gubernatorial Returns be legally amended or changed?

An Important Opinion of the Court in 1838.

The Lewiston Journal of Monday 29th, publishes the following letter from "an esteemed correspondent" citing an opinion of the Supreme Court of Maine in 1838, which the Journal says "is new to us and "we presume new to the legal fraternity, "and will be read with much interest." In closing its editorial comments on the letter and opinions, the Journal says: "The ability of our correspondent and the apparent "support which the opinion of 1838 gives to "his views, calls for a thorough examination "of the point which he has raised."

To the Editor of the Lewiston Journal.

Will you have the kindness to publish the following quotations from the Journal, and some comments thereon which follow:—

"The legislature, however, might refuse to allow the correction of gubernatorial returns, and in so doing would act in accordance with precedents and the law as it stands, for there is now no statute or constitutional provision authorizing the correction of gubernatorial returns."—Lewiston Daily Journal, Sept. 29.

"Neither the Journal, nor any Republican newspaper or Republican has intimated an intention to follow the precedents of Gov. Garcelon and council. These officials violated an explicit law of the State in refusing to correct legislative returns, and the Gazette applauded. No republican has suggested the disregard of law, nor would countenance it for a moment. But if the republicans canvass the returns according to the existing law and the opinions of the Court, the Morris and Hiram Plaisted returns cannot be corrected and counted for H. M. Plaisted. Yet the Journal has constantly advocated going so far as to amend the law so as to correct such returns."—Same Oct. 4.

"Returns for Harrie M. Plaisted, Harrains M. Plaisted and Haras M. Plaisted might perhaps be counted for Harris M. Plaisted, and returns for Daniel F. David for Daniel F. Davis, on the parliamentary principle of similarity of sound; but returns for Harrison, Hiram, Morris, Harris H. and Harris W. Plaisted, cannot be counted for Harris M. Plaisted and, returns for Daniel W. Davis cannot be counted for Daniel F. Davis without first correcting the returns by the records, in case the records are correct.

"The court decided last winter, as it had previously decided, that there could be no correction of the returns unless the law provides for such amendment. The law does provide for the correction of legislative and county returns, and this law Gov. Garcelon and council refused to obey. But the law as it now stands does not provide for the correction of gubernatorial returns, although it may be amended so as to include these."—Same, Oct. 6.

"But the opinion of the Court was that under the act of 1876-7, errors in county and legislative returns—not gubernatorial returns—should be corrected by the record. The act of 1876-7, which according to the Court gives the sole authority to correct returns, does not apply at all to gubernatorial returns. The Court would decide under the laws as they stand, that gubernatorial returns cannot be corrected—just as the Court decided in 1875, before the statute was passed authorizing the correction of legislative returns, that these could not then be corrected. Gubernatorial returns never were corrected. The principle settled by the Court in every decision is, that returns cannot be corrected by the record in any material part unless some statute specifically provides for it. Gov. Garcelon and Council defied the law and the opinion of the Court in refusing to correct the legislative returns, for whose correction the law specifically provides." * * * * * * "And for sixty years it has been the uniform practice of the legislature to canvass the gubernatorial returns precisely as made, and declare the result which they show."—Same, Oct 7.

"It is true that errors in names in gubernatorial returns have never been corrected, but it has been simply from the reason that heretofore the errors have not affected the result any, therefore no one has presented to the legislature copies of the records and asked for correction. If such past errors had affected the result, and applications for corrections had been made, does any one doubt they would have been corrected and the votes of the people counted as they were cast?"—Same, Dec. 3.

Your correspondent believes all of the positions and statements of the Journal, quoted above, to be sound and correct, save the proposition to amend the law of 1877, so as to include the returns for Governor, and the suggestion in the last quotation, of Dec. 3d, that the reason why gubernatorial returns have not been amended heretofore was that the result would not have been affected thereby.

He dissents from the proposition to amend the law of 1877, because he believes such an act would be clearly unconstitutional. He also believes the Journal in error in the suggestion referred to, as the question was raised in the Legislature in 1838, in the close gubernatorial contest between Governor Kent and his democratic competitor. The Senate then propounded questions to the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court (consisting then of only three Judges) covering the points at issue, and an able and unanimous opinion was rendered in answer thereto. Copies of these questions and the answer to the same are herewith submitted, which the Journal is most respectfully solicited to publish in support of the positions taken by your correspondent, and for the information of its numerous readers. This opinion sustains not only your correspondent, but also all the other legal propositions of the Journal, found in the extracts quoted above.

It seems more than probable that a knowledge of this opinion prevented the Legislatures of 1876-7 from including gubernatorial returns in the acts of those years, on the ground that it would be unconstitutional to do so. It may be alleged that the opinions of the court in 1880 conflict with that of 1838. This is not the case, the only question in relation to gubernatorial returns before the court in 1880, being as to whether copies of the records could be substituted "in case (and in no other case) the returns were lost, concealed or inaccessible." This the court answered in the affirmative, on the well established principle that the purport or contents of a lost paper may be proved by the best evidence to be had. When the original is in existence and accessible, it must be used as furnishing the better evidence.

The members of the S. J. Court of 1838 were all Democrats, but acknowledged to be able, learned and upright judges.

Their unanimous opinion rendered in due form, upon the questions submitted, has never been reversed, and has ever since been and is now the constitutional law of the State, binding upon all. It has ever been a principle of the Republican party, to respect and conform to the opinions of the Court. That doctrine has been proclaimed with great emphasis and vehemence during the year just past, especially. Will they depart from that principle now, in order to show generosity and prove how over honest they are? Possibly, when the gubernatorial returns are opened they will be found to contain no alleged errors. Hope this will be the case, for in such event there will be no occasion for the exercise of magnanimity and the exhibition of "gush," in violation of the plain letter of the constitution, and in disregard of the opinion of the Court.

OBSERVER.

Dec. 27, 1880.

Opinion of S. J. Court in 1838.

STATE OF MAINE.

IN SENATE, January 11, 1838.

Ordered, That the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court be requested to give their opinion on the following questions:—

1st. "Is it competent for the two branches of the Legislature to admit evidence to prove that a return of the votes for Governor, given in any city, town, or plantation, made to the office of the Secretary of State, in the form, and within the time prescribed by the Constitution of this State, is not what it purports to be? And if so, under what circumstances and to what extent?"

2d. "Is it competent for the two branches of the Legislature to receive parole evidence to invalidate, contradict, or impeach the returns of votes for Governor, given in any city, town or plantation, made to the Secretary of State, in the form, and within the time prescribed by the Constitution and laws of this State, except in cases of fraud suggested or alleged?"

OPINION.

To the Honorable the Senate of the State of Maine:—

The undersigned, Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court, have taken into consideration the questions propounded to them by the Senate, on the eleventh instant.

The Constitution has prescribed, at what time, by whom, and in what manner the Governor and members of both branches of the Legislature shall be elected. It has, also, provided that the selectmen of towns shall preside at meetings held for this purpose, and has further charged them with certain duties in receiving, sorting, counting and declaring the votes, and, with the assistance of the Town Clerks, in certifying and making due return of the result in each town respectively.

In the election of Governor the returns are to be made to the Secretary's office, in each year, thirty days at least before the first Wednesday in January. And on that day the Secretary is required "to lay the same before the Senate and House of Representatives, "to be by them examined, and in case of a choice by a majority of all the votes returned, they shall declare and publish the same." The evidence to be submitted to the two houses, and the source from which it is to be derived, are

EXPENSES.

Economy is important not only as affecting directly the earnings of surplus but also as an indication of prudence and carefulness in all directions. It is a virtue which rarely goes unattended. During the last ten years the ratio of expenses to receipts of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company has been only 7.53 per cent., and during the year just closed, only 8.54 per cent. This unequalled economy has saved a great deal of money for dividends.

THE IRISH AND THE BOERS.

THE DUBLIN STATE TRIALS.

MORE TROOPS FOR IRELAND.

The British Cabinet Meeting.

LONDON, Dec. 31. Considerable importance is attached to the meeting of the Cabinet, as it was devoted exclusively to the consideration of the troubles in Ireland and the Transvaal. It is understood that efforts will be made to pacify the Boers and to that end a conference will be proposed. It is also stated that the Government are altogether opposed to engaging in a colonial war. The decision, if any were reached, on measures of coercion for Ireland coincidently with the new land bill, has not been announced.

More Troops for Ireland.

DUBLIN, Dec. 31. It is stated that the authorities contemplate the dispatch of flying columns into the country almost immediately, as was done during the Fenian rising. It is said that every step necessary for the movement is arranged. Nine columns will be started, each comprising a troop of cavalry, a division of artillery with two guns, four companies of infantry, ten sappers and a detachment of the army service corps with four wagons. Each soldier will carry sixty rounds of ammunition.

The Attorney-General's Concluding Remarks.

Attorney-General Law concluded this morning with a forcible peroration. He hoped the jury would be true to their consciences and return a verdict satisfactory to the country. Disorder, he said, must be put down at whatever cost.

As he resumed his seat there was no manifestation of any kind. The government short hand reporter was then placed in the witness box to read his notes made at the public meetings of the Traversers.

The Result of Disorder.

CORK, Dec. 31. Want of employment everywhere is felt and nowhere more keenly than in those districts where agitation has taken greatest hold. Extraordinary sessions are being held in different parts of the country for the purpose of starting public works.

A collision between two teams occurred in front of the WHIG office yesterday, resulting in the breaking of a thill and whiffle-tree, and badly disturbing the equanimity of the owner.

Darkness reigned in our streets last night. Every gas-light was extinguished with the exception of the one in front of the WHIG office. It was caused by frost getting into the pipes.

There will be a service of sacred song in the First Congregational church to-morrow evening at half-past seven o'clock. Addresses will be made by Professor Sewall upon "Our Barbarian Ancestry," and by the pastor upon "The Gospel Outlook of the Field." New hymns appropriate to the occasion will be sung by a select choir.

SINGULAR ACCIDENT. Last week one of the removers of night soil cleaned out a vault on Oxford street and carelessly left the door of the vault up. The next morning a lady opened the door and fell into the vault, sustaining very serious injuries, three physicians having been in attendance upon her. It is stated that a suit for damages against the negligent workman has been brought.—Argus.

UNITY CLUB. The old Unity Club having dissolved a new club is to be formed, a sufficient number of names for that purpose having been already obtained. The fine collection of pictures and busts belong to the old organization were sold at auction yesterday forenoon. They were bid in for the new club. The beautiful hall will be dismantled as it will be occupied by the new association.

A distribution of prizes took place in Ricker's store on Main street last night. Officer B. E. Walker received a silver service; F. O. Beale a silver pitcher; a Mr. Fowler received a dozen silver knives and fruit [illegible]

Mr. George Gorham, a potato and hay dealer, of this city, has engaged a storehouse in Belfast for the winter, and will bring potatoes by rail from Aroostook and ship them from the port of Belfast.

The Kennebec Journal says: Already the wash of the incoming tide of legislators is beginning to be felt in the renewed life at the hotels. Members are arriving in town by ones and twos in quest of boarding houses. The winter promises to be a brilliant one in society circles. Lent comes late this year, and will therefore interfere but little with the festivities. The last year has been a prosperous one for Maine. People have money to spend, and the hotels anticipate a harvest. The Augusta House has nearly sixty rooms engaged in advance, and the Cony House and the Hotel North will do a large business.

FORGOT TO LOCK UP. One night this week Officers McCoy and Rice found a store door on Exchange street unfastened. Obtaining keys they locked the door and left a note setting forth the circumstances. A few hours later Officer Colson discovered the rear door to the same store unlocked, which he fastened, leaving also a note stating the facts. In the morning the proprietor found these notes, and he has been greatly exercised as to why his place of business should have been burglarized twice in one night, and nothing stolen. The facts are that he is a little absent minded, and neglected to lock his doors but he is positive it was a burglarious attempt.

A VICTIM. As one of our police was patrolling his beat a few nights since, he was startled by hearing a tremendous crash, followed by mingled curses and groans. Hurrying to the scene he saw a spruce young man in a pitiable plight. He was lying at the foot of a long flight of stairs, bruised, covered with ashes, and his head buried in a large wash boiler. His story was that he had been visiting a friend, and that they had had rather a social time. After bidding good-night to his friend he had started to come down the stairs in the dark, when he ran into something, and his first thought was that the building had fallen on him. Some one had balanced a barrel of ashes on the stairs, surmounted it by a wash-boiler, and awaited the coming of his victim. But at the sounds that resulted from the collision, he became alarmed and fled to safer quarters.

The Lewiston Journal says there was a wedding on Cousen's Island, Wednesday evening. The island is at the mouth of Royal river, off Yarmouth fore-side, about a mile from the mainland. Rev. G. B. Illsley of Lewiston went down to marry the couple, and about sixty guests from neighboring places went out to the island in boats, to attend the festivities. The temperature went down so low, during the evening, that the ice effectually blockaded the island, and the party was frozen in. After the festivities, they were unable to get their boats off, and had to stay on the island all night. Thirty people slept in the house where the marriage took place, and a neighbor's dwelling accommodated the rest of the party. The ice did not retreat till noon. Then the people were able to get their boats into clear steering and they got ashore safely. Rev. Mr. Illsley arrived home on the two o'clock train, Thursday afternoon. The absence of the blockaded party for so long a time, caused considerable alarm among those who stayed at home.

A Brief Review of Local Events.

Now will the paragraphist tell us that "another year has been gathered into the vaults of eternity"—that "a chain of twelve calendar months has slipped from the grasp of old Father Time"—that the old year, with its record of peaceful prosperity, has yielded its sceptre to the New-born Year. One is apt to become sentimental at this season. We are reminded that the rapidly passing years are hastening the hour when time with us shall become eternity; we are reminded that the rosy picture of life which we painted in youth, has lost much of its brightness; that there is less of poetry than prose in our busy, active lives. As we look over the past, we see that our mistakes have been many; that our brightest hopes are unfulfilled; but we have gained experience, and the mistakes of the past should be made to serve us well in the future.

Eighteen hundred and eighty will be remembered as a prosperous year,—as the year in which the long-continued depression in business, and its consequent suffering was succeeded by general activity, and the attendant blessings of peace and contentment.

A review of the important events that have occurred,—the wonderful discoveries made—the inventions of genius,—during the year 1880, would make an interesting and instructive chapter. The newspapers, which reflect with mirror-like faithfulness each passing event, have chronicled every discovery, every invention, every calamity, every blessing,—everything of importance that has transpired, throughout the civilized world, during the year that is past; but the mass of readers—the busy, nervous rushing people of to-day—have only a sort of dim, confused idea concerning them. And these thoughts have suggested that a brief review of the strictly local happenings of the year 1880 would not be uninteresting to our many readers, to one and all of whom we wish A HAPPY NEW YEAR:

NO MORE HARD TIMES.

If you will stop spending so much on fine clothes, rich food and style, buy good, healthy food, cheaper and better clothing; get more real and substantial things of life every way, and especially stop the foolish habit of employing expensive quack doctors or using so much of the vile humbug medicine that does you only harm, but put your trust in that simple, pure remedy, Hop Bitters; that cures always at a trifling cost, and you will see good times and have good health.—Chronicle.

YEAR BY YEAR the business of our Patent Office increases in volume, and in a similar ratio the difficulty experienced by inventors in securing for themselves the full benefits of the products of a fertile brain. This is not due to red-tapism in the department, but to lack of information regarding patentability, conflicting claims and other obstacles, such as none but an expert in the business is competent to give. While the United States is the most prolific of all nations in its inventive capacity, it is also favored in having many gentlemen of great experience in procuring for inventors the proper recognition of and protection for their inventions. Of these agents, no one is better known or more justly esteemed than Mr. R. H. Eddy, of Boston, who for twoscore years has been recognized as one of the most judicious and successful Patent Solicitors in any country. GUILTY OF WRONG.

Some people have a fashion of confusing excellent remedies with the large mass of "patent medicines," and in this they are guilty of a wrong. There are some advertised remedies fully worth all that is asked for them, and one at least we know of—Hop Bitters. The writer has had occasion to use the Bitters in just such a climate as we have most of the year in Bay City, and has always found them to be first-class and reliable, doing all that is claimed for them.—Tribune.

"MY TORMENTED BACK."

is the exclamation of more than one poor hard-working man and woman. Do you know why it aches? It is because your kidneys are over-tasked and need strengthening, and your system needs to be cleansed of bad humors. Kidney-Wort is the medicine you need. CAUSE AND EFFECT.

The main cause of nervousness is indigestion, and that is caused by weakness of the stomach. No one can have sound nerves and good health without using Hop Bitters to strengthen the stomach, purify the blood, and keep the liver and kidneys active, to carry off all the poisonous and waste matter of the system. WHAT MR. PITTS MIGHT HAVE SAVED HIMSELF.

Mr. Henry Pitts, of Kingston, N. Y., suffered from the presence of Stone in the Bladder for several years. Dr. Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., removed the foreign body by the knife. Had Mr. Pitts, and others similarly afflicted, used Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" in the earlier stages of the disease, the medicine would have prevented the formation of the calculus or stone, rendering a dangerous surgical operation unnecessary. Dr. Kennedy gave "Favorite Remedy" to prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Pitt remains in perfect health to this day. d&w2w dec28

They contain no opium, morphine or quinine, and are not a purgative, but regulate the bowels and cures constipation by curing or removing the causes of it. They have a charming effect upon the skin, and a lovely, quieting effect upon the nervous system, simply by feeding its ten thousand hungry, yes, in some cases starving absorbants. They make or create nerve matter and give power, force and buoyancy to the nerves, and in that way increase mental force, endurance and brilliancy of mind. THE GOVERNOR CANVASS.

prescribed by the Constitution as the best which could be devised, from which to ascertain who, if anyone, has received a majority of the suffrages of the electors. The result of this evidence the two houses are required to declare; and no authority is in terms conferred upon them to receive any other evidence. Nor does it appear to the undersigned, that it is to be derived by fair implication. It would open the door to the admission of testimony of an inferior character, and would expose the most solemn public proceedings and documents to be affected by fraud and perjury. And if received to vary the returns, the result thereupon declared would not be that indicated by the returns, but so far as they might be affected, one derived from other sources.

The Legislature assembles at the time appointed by the Constitution, to pass such resolves and enact such laws as the public good requires. It was evidently contemplated that the organization of the government would be speedily completed, that the Legislature might, as soon as practicable, proceed to the proper business appertaining to that department. A day is appointed upon which to declare on whom the election has fallen, if one has been effected by the people. And, although by the general provisions of the Constitution there may be an adjournment from day to day, until the organization of the government can be completed, it is very manifest that it was intended that the result of the votes returned for Governor should be declared as soon as the two houses shall have had opportunity to examine the returns; for the Governor is to hold and exercise his powers for one year from the first Wednesday in January. To effect this object the Constitution has taken care that on that day the proper evidence shall be laid before the Senate and House of Representatives, from which the result is to be ascertained. If it is competent for them to look elsewhere for other evidence, upon a suggestion of fraud or mistake, that suggestion may be made by irresponsible persons, from any and from every part of the State, for the mere purpose of delay, by which a decision might be indefinitely protracted, at great expense to the public, while the powers conferred upon the Governor elect, for the Constitutional period, are withheld from him, and the public deprived of the benefit of his services. While an inquisition is going on, as to the purity, integrity, and correctness of the proceedings of the several cities, towns and plantations in the State, and of their officers, a portion, if not the whole of the annual period for which the Governor is elected may be consumed and lost. It appears to the undersigned, that upon this construction, there would be great hazard that the public would be deprived for a portion of the year of a regularly organized government; a portion, too, embracing that period of time when the Senate and House of Representatives are required to assemble for the purposes of legislation. The Constitution would thus be found inadequate to secure to the people, from year to year, the government for which it provides.

Another objection may arise from the difficulty of verifying satisfactorily disputed facts, covering a broad field of inquiry and involving much of the law of evidence before legislative bodies, brought together and organized for a different purpose, upon which the undersigned forbear to enlarge. It may be urged that the construction suggested by the undersigned, would leave the public exposed to fraud or mistake on the part of the selectmen. It might we apprehend, be a sufficient answer to say that it was for the framers of the Constitution to determine whether the exigency of the case required that the returns should be open to be controverted before the two houses, and made thereupon subject to their revision; and that the existence of this power is negatived, not only by the silence of the Constitution upon this point, but by its express requirement, that the two houses should declare and publish who, if any one, has a majority of the votes returned.

But the public are not without safeguards and sanctions for the preservation of the purity of elections; and if they are found inadequate, they may be strengthened and increased by the legislative power. The selectmen are the representatives of the people in the discharge of the duties confided to them. They are selected by them for their capacity, probity and fidelity. Trusts of great importance, bearing upon the immediate interests of the citizens, are committed to their care. They manage the prudentials of their respective towns; and usually, also, discharge the duties of assessors. No class of public agents are nearer to the people, or receive more unequivocal proofs of their confidence. In regard to elections, they act, in the face of the public, subject to vigilant and constant inspection.

There must be faith and credence given to public functionaries in their proper departments, acting under the responsibilities to which they are subjected. Whatever is authenticated by them, in the form prescribed by law, is regarded as evidence of the highest character. It closes all controversy in regard to facts thus verified. This is a principle adopted and practiced upon in courts of justice. Without it the evils and expense of litigation would be greatly aggravated.

The Constitution has provided that the Legislature should be seasonably furnished with the best evidence the nature of the subject admitted. The technical rule, which requires the best evidence, is not intended to shut out, but to establish truth. It may be well admitted that it is not a rule which precludes the possibility of error. Perfection does not belong to the present condition of mankind. It is adopted because the experience of ages has demonstrated that it is, upon the whole, most favorable to the establishment of truth. By relaxing it, truth might in a few possible cases be promoted; but it would, in a much greater number, be perverted. If the character and official standing of the selectmen of towns, and the publicity of their proceedings are not a sufficient guaranty for their fidelity and integrity in regard to elections, it is competent for the legislative power to provide other sanctions. This has already been done to some extent; and penalties may be increased at the discretion of the Legislature. But in making these intimations, as to the inviolability and conclusive character of the returns, the undersigned doubt not that it is competent for the two houses to be satisfied that they come from the proper official sources, and are not forgeries. If, for instance, they purport to come from towns or plantations which have no existence, or from persons not clothed with the authority they assume, they are not entitled to be respected as constitutional returns. So also, in our judgment, any return may well be rejected as a forgery, if it contains a list of a much greater number of votes than the town from which it purports to come can possibly, from its population, have of legal voters.

Upon the whole, the undersigned, in relation to the first question propounded to them, answer, that in their opinion it was not the design of the Constitution, and, therefore, is not competent for the two branches of the Legislature to admit evidence to prove that a return of the votes for Governor, given in any city, town or plantation, made to the office of Secretary of State, in the form, and within the time prescribed by the Constitution of this State, is not what it purports to be; and, as a necessary consequence, that the parole testimony, which forms the subject of inquiry in the second question, is inadmissible without any qualification whatever. All of which is respectfully submitted.

NATHAN WESTON.

THE TRUSTEES OF THE

HOSPITAL,

Make this Public Appeal for Aid.

It is desired to enlarge the Hospital building, and to add to its facilities for serving the community.

The work of the Hospital has been steadily increasing since its foundation in 1871. During the last year a larger number of persons than ever before have been received into the building, and the demand for the treatment of free patients is now more pressing than at any previous time.

The need of larger accommodations for the various departments is very great. It is deemed by the Trustees to be a matter of absolute necessity to add to the Hospital building a surgical ward, a lying-in ward, and a children's ward; and funds are also imperatively needed to maintain the work at its present point of efficiency and success.

The Trustees hope that the friends of the Hospital and all who have any knowledge or experience of the benefits that it has conferred will answer this appeal with the same generosity that was displayed at the time of its foundation; and that liberal donations and annual subscriptions will be given to meet its immediate requirements, as well as greatly increase its means and opportunities for usefulness.

WASTING DISEASES

Such as Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, General Debility, Brain Exhaustion, Chronic Constipation, Chronic Diarrhœa, Dyspepsia, or

LOSS OF NERVOUS POWER.

Are positively cured by FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES.

As phosphorus enters so largely into the animal economy, it becomes par excellence the best vehicle with which to associate the other vitalizing ingredients of healthy Blood, Nerve and Muscle. In Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites are combined all the substances found necessary to insure robust health, and whereas it was invented with a view to supply every deficiency, it certainly has performed some wonderful cures.

MANCHESTER, N. H., June 18, 1880.

MR. JAMES I. FELLOWS.

Dear Sir: I wish to acknowledge the great benefit I have received from the use of "Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites." I have been an invalid for nearly two years, with a bronchial affection that had become chronic. In the Fall of 1878 I had a physician eighty days in succession, besides the counsel of several others. They gave me but little encouragement, some of them none. Last July I was advised to give your remedy a trial. I did so, and in less than one week there was a marked improvement for the better. I have continued its use from that time until the present, improving all the time and I can truthfully say I am more than a hundred per cent. better than when I commenced its use. I have increased in weight about fifteen pounds, and my cough, which was fearful, has nearly disappeared. I believe had it not been for your Syrup, I should ere this have been beyond the cares of life. Very truly yours,

ALBERT STORY.
